Fabio Gamberini, Graphic Designer & Digital Artist

Fabio Gamberini (Italy) is a digital craftsman born in Bologna and based in Milan, Italy.

After his degree in graphic design, he started to play around with technology applied to applied arts and never stopped ever since.

His interests embrace from matte painting to photography, from videography to graphic design. He's sometimes called an artist, but never sure if it's a compliment or a way to mock him by more "squared people".
