

Dorottya Olekszik, Art Historian

Dorottya Olekszik (Hungary) is an art historian, travel expert, tour guide, tea expert and tea sommelier, founder of the first tea education institute in Central Europe, of Tea Akademia in Budapest. She graduated in Tourism and Hotel management at BGE in Budapest, in Religion Sciences at Szeged University of Sciences and in History of Art in Budapest. She lived and had her education in Switzerland, Thailand, and Spain, where her passion for travel, arts, architecture, and ancient cultures was allowed to flourish. Since beginning her guiding career at a very young age, she has acquired many of European, South American, Southeast Asian and sub-Saharan Africa's most interesting guiding experiences in temples, churches, archeological sites, palaces, cathedrals, monasteries, World's Heritage sites, museums and national parks.

In her quest to learn and grow she has travelled to some of the most exotic and remote areas in the world and run some of the most challenging operations; from French medieval cathedral tours and art historian round trips in Italy, Sicily, and Greece, to trend setting safari lodges in Africa, yoga and Hindu temple tours in India, Tibet and Indonesia, Amazonia sustainable travels in Brazil and Peru. She is the mother of three wonderful girls. She speaks German, Spanish and English.
